GUIDELINES FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL HUMAN CAPITAL REPORTING STANDARD

GLOBAL ALLIANCE PARTNERS

Why Human Capital Disclosure is Important in ESG Context?

Global economy is transforming from physical to intellectual capital. According to Ocean Tomo Intellectual Capital Equity USA, In 500 Fortune Companies, 90% of value creation in S&P 500 firms is attributed to intangible assets. Human capital cost consumes lion's share of intangible assets. With the rising investment in workforce, shareholders are keen to know as how this investment impacts the organization bottom line. There is a swell of interest by investors in human capital measurement and impact on the sustainability of organization.

With the emergence of Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) framework, human capital has become important for investment analysis, both from social and financial impact perspective. Human capital is now a key consideration for most companies around the world.

It is recognized as one of the most important drivers of competitiveness, value creation, and sustainable competitive advantage. Worldwide investors are engaging with companies to improve the workforce risk disclosure to cope with rapid environmental and technological change. CEOs are under growing pressure from investors, government, regulators, customers, employees, and communities, to become more transparent in their investments and outcomes.

Top 6 Reasons for Human Capital Disclosure

- 01 Organizations have a fiduciary duty to communicate existing and potential future risks deemed material to their business.

Human Capital is clearly material to virtually any organization's current and future success, therefore a fiduciary responsibility exists to provide greater information to shareholders, creditors and others.
- 02 There is broad agreement by investors, boards directors, CEOs, CFOs, governments, human resources and workers.

That human capital has an impact on organizational success. CEO's state "Our people are our most valuable asset," or "It all starts with people." Shouldn't such asset information be disclosed to key stakeholders.
- 03 Companies need smart, effective employees to compete,

Understanding and quantifying human capital is critical for success and future growth internally within the organization.
- 04 The current disclosure gap obscures talent management effectiveness and material human capital risks to investors.

With no visibility into utilization of a firm's single largest expense, investors must rely on social media tidbits or simply make judgements on no information at all.
- 05 What gets measured gets managed.

For most organizations, human capital is not well measured except as a cost. This suggests unbalanced reporting with only the cost side of the equation represented and the value-add investment side missing.
- 06 Regulatory securities commissions, require extensive disclosure of all major assets.

Including financial assets, physical assets, and technological assets such as patents. However, there is minimal disclosure of human capital which is, for most organizations, their largest annual operating expense.

How Global Standards Setter Organizations are Redefining ESG Reporting Requirements?

1. The European Union has issued Corporate Sustainability Directive Report.
2. The International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) has set out its intention to accelerate the harmonization of sustainability standards.
3. The US Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has amended its rules to enhance human capital disclosures.
4. The International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) Foundation has agreed to consult on broadening its mandate to include sustainability issues.
5. The International Federation of Accountants (IFAC) has called for the creation of an International Sustainability Standards Board to sit alongside the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) under the auspices of the IFRS Foundation.
6. Leading voluntary framework and standard setters including Climate Disclosure Project (CDP), the Climate Disclosure Standards Board (CDSB), the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI), the International Integrated Reporting Council (IIRC) and the Sustainability Accounting Standards Board (SASB) have for the first time committed to work towards a joint vision.
7. These developments form the natural building blocks of a single, coherent, global ESG reporting system for sustainability of corporate value creation system.

What is ISO 30414?

ISO 30414 is an international standard titled "Human resource management — Guidelines for internal and external human capital reporting." It provides a set of guidelines for organizations to report on various aspects of their human capital, both internally and externally. The standard aims to help organizations measure, manage, and report on their workforce effectively, with a focus on improving transparency and accountability. ISO 30414 provides a framework for reporting on 11 aspects of human capital, such as

- 1) Compliance: Adherence to labor laws and regulations.
- 2) Costs: Financial aspects related to human capital, such as salaries and benefits.
- 3) Diversity: Representation of different demographics within the workforce.
- 4) Leadership: Quality and effectiveness of leadership within the organization.
- 5) Organizational Culture: The values, behaviors, and beliefs that shape the work environment.
- 6) Productivity: Measures of workforce efficiency and effectiveness.
- 7) Safety: Workplace safety and health measures.
- 8) Recruitment and Turnover: Volume, quality, time to hire, exit analysis
- 9) Skills and Capabilities: The knowledge, skills, and competencies of the workforce.
- 10) Succession Planning: Strategies for maintaining leadership and talent continuity.
- 11) Workforce Availability: Availability of qualified personnel to meet organizational needs.

01

Identify measurement opportunities; diagnose HR financial and operational measures, understand the messages in measured data, with a view to become competitive, cost effective and yet responsive to business needs.

02

Quantify HR department's contribution to the overall bottom line, through solid, factual, and verifiable data and analyze toughest workforce decisions with easy-to-use mathematical formulas.

03

Integrate measurement analytics with action plan through benchmarking, to achieve and surpass industry standards.

04

Accessible and transparent human capital data insights enhances internal and external understanding and assessment of investment in organization's human capital, its present and future performance along with financial and non-financial returns.

05

Stakeholders view intangibles alongside tangibles data to review companies' performance. As a result, assessing whether a company is set up for sustainable growth becomes much more valid. This disruption also provides a massive opportunity for HR professionals as they understand HR practices, and how HR systems captures data to support organization's value creation cycle.

Testimonials

Shunsuke Hosaka

Founder & CEO
HCProduce Inc.
Japan

The ISO 30414 Professional Certification Program of HR Metrics provided him a lot of knowledge and practical skills that the Standard's document itself does not tell. Also, thanks to Mr. Zahid Mubarik, who has long contributed to the establishment of the ISO 30414 and shared his profound knowledge and experiences as an instructor. While the lectures provided with the details of each metric and understanding of the formulas, the case study allowed him to prepare for the real audit for ISO 30414 Standard. Owing much to this program, he was able to become the first ISO 30414 consultants/auditors in Japan, and Dream Incubator Inc. will be able to assist organizations to conform with global expectations as well as investors' growing concerns on Human Capital Management.

Nadia Akbar Huda

Director- HR
Vital Pakistan Trust
Pakistan

She always quotes: "if we cannot measure, we cannot improve"; therefore, HR analytics and metrics are very close to her heart, and that's why she feels that ISO 30414 gives us the quantitative view of our most valuable asset and resource i.e., People. Its 11 clusters show the exact performance of the HR department as well as the overall health of the organization. It not only shows the correct picture of the organization to its internal stakeholders but also depicts the growth opportunity and future viability to its external stakeholder.

Muhammad A. Laghari

Chief Human Capital Officer
ALJ International
UAE

Dr. Laghari sees People and Human Resources as a critical asset, which many organizations recognize yet fail to effectively quantify in terms of the value HR/People bring to their organization. He believes ISO 30414 adoption will not only help with quantifying the value but will also bring about transparent reporting practices. Dr. Laghari believes his ISO 30414 certification journey was an important milestone in his continuous learning journey, which helped him build on his understanding of HR concepts and metrics.
